SHORT BIO – FABIO ANGELE

Fabio Angele is the owner and operator of Brunetti Classico, one of Melbourne's iconic food destinations. He is the second generation of his family to run the Italian food emporium and says his 50 years of hospitality experience was learnt on the job and under the mentorship of his father, Giorgio, who taught him the importance of family values.

A usual day for Fabio starts at 1.30am at Brunetti Classico's Lygon St store, where he manages back house duties to distribute products the airport, Moonee Ponds and Drummond St locations. He then orders stock for Lygon St and prepares the store for opening, followed by admin tasks for the remainder of his working day, which ends around 2pm.

Before Brunetti Classico, Fabio graduated university with a Bachelor of Applied Science in Human Movement and worked in the fitness industry as a lifesaver, swimming teacher, gymnasium instructor and as a semi-professional soccer player [Victorian State League].

Fabio's first job in the hospitality and food industry was with Itai Biscuits, the family business prior to Brunetti Classico.

Now five decades on, Fabio says hard work, openness to learn from others, believing in yourself and your product, as well as being focused quality and having respect for your customers and staff are his key leanings and ingredients for success.

In his spare time, you will find Fabio participating in iron man triathlons [3.8km swim, 180km ride and 42km run], spending time with his family and attending live music concerts.
